& Wildlife Recorders Showcase!

It's Spring & there's so much to do!!! Come along to a wildlife recording community day @ Brockholes Visitor Village. We will celebrate the success of Biodiverse Society, & listen to the differences it made! Learn how, as an individual, or group, you can 'bridge the gap' between the recorders in the field and the record centres, LERN and Biobank.

Morning - 'optional' workshop, talks us through the basics of Biological Recording introducing resources to help. Before lunch, we will hear from x5 local groups about the taxa they record and how to get involved! Tuck into a delicious lunch prepared by Brockholes Café, & promote your group or host a display.

Afternoon - find out how you or your group can liaise with Merseyside Biobank Active Naturalists, Lancashire Active Naturalists and plans for 2018. See the latest available funding for 'recorders' and 'groups'. A further optional workshop gives you a chance to use i-Record. See how this useful tool can make recording simpler.
